CONGRESSIONAL PROCEEDINGS.

Senators Discuss the Successor to General Casey.

AN UNEVENTFUL SESSION.

Long Discussion Over Unimportant Matters--Harrison May Accept Foreign Decorations--Allen Wishes to Insure Action on Coinage.

Washington, March 26.--None of the matters that came before the Senate to-day was of much public interest or importance.

Mr. Morrill (Rep.) of Vermont reported from the Library Committee a resolution to fill the vacancy caused by the death yesterday of Gen. Casey in charge of the construction of the new library building in Washington, in the appointment of Bernard R. Green at $5,000 a year. The resolution was advocated by Messrs Morrill, Hale and Vilas. Mr. Hill (Dem.) of New York inquired why the charge of the work should not pass into the hands of Gen. Casey's army successor.

Mr. Vilas explained that Mr. Green had been Gen. Casey's assistant from the beginning of the work and that it would do no good and might do harm to make a change now. He thought that Mr. Green should be allowed to finish the work now so near completion.

After further discussion Mr. Hill said he would not insist upon his objection, although it struck him that it was not proper to legislate a man into office by name, "even before the burial of the distinguished General."

The discussion extended over more than an hour and a half and in the course of it much stress was laid upon the fact that the building will be finished within the time fixed for its completion and for less money than the estimated cost (about $6,000,000). The resolution was then passed.

The joint resolution offered yesterday by Mr. Sherman (Rep.) of Ohio from the Committee on Foreign Relations authorizing Benjamin Harrison to accept certain medals presented to him by the governments of Brazil and Spain during his term of service as President of the United States, was taken up and passed.

Allen's Silver Resolution.

Mr. Allen (Pop.) of Nebraska introduced the following resolution which was laid on the table:

Resolved, That Congress should by appropriate legislation without further delay restore silver to the free and unlimited coinage at the ratio of 16 parts of standard silver to 1 part gold and should by appropriate legislation withdraw from the Secretary of the Treasury any power he may now have to issue the bonds or other interest bearing obligations of the United States until the necessity therefore shall be created by Congress and that Congress should not adjourn until these things have been accomplished.

A joint resolution providing for the appointment of a commission under the direction of the Secretary of War for the preliminary survey with plans, specifications and approximate estimates of the cost thereof, for the construction of a ship canal of approved width and depth from the lower shore of Lake Michigan to the Wabash river and for the further investigation of the practicability of the construction of such waterway, was taken from the calendar and passed.

The legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill was taken up and all the amendments heretofore agreed to in Committee of the Whole, except such as were specially reserved, were agreed to in bulk. About an hour was consumed in discussing an amendment to give a third clerk to the Senate Committee on Pensions. The amendment was assailed by Mr. Allen (Pop.) of Nebraska and was defended and advocated by members of the Committee on Pensions. In the course of the discussion Mr. Gallinger (Rep.) of New Hampshire, chairman of the committee, stated that the assistant clerk was his son and that he performed his public duties with fidelity and efficiency.

Mr. Sherman (Rep.) of Ohio moved to strike out all the sections of the bill in reference to the compensation of United States district attorneys, clerks and marshals, putting those officials on a salary basis instead of on the basis of fees. He made an argument against the proposed change, one of his points being that such a complete re-organization of the judiciary department of the United States ought not to be made on appropriation bill, but ought to be carefully considered in all its details by the Judiciary Committee.

Mr. Sherman's motion was supported in speeches by Senators Hoar (Rep.) of Massachusetts, Chandler (Rep.) of New Hampshire and Hill (Dem.) of New York on the ground chiefly that legislation of a general character should not be placed in appropriation bills. Without disposing of Mr. Sherman's motion the bill was laid aside, Mr. Cullom, who is in charge of it, giving notice that he would try to have a final vote on it to-morrow.

A bill for the admission of Arizona as a State was reported from the Committee on Territories and placed on the calendar.

HOUSE.

Washington, March 26.--The House spent most of to-day's session in discussing, in Committee of the Whole, the motion offered by Mr. Hanley (Rep.) of Indiana, member of the Committee on Naval Affairs to amend the naval appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1897, by providing for the construction of six battleships instead of four as recommended by the committee.

The motion was supported by Messrs. Hanley, Johnson (Rep.) of California and Cummings (Dem.) of New York, and opposed by Messrs. Hullick (Rep.) of Ohio, Robinson (Rep.) of Pennsylvania and Houtelle (Rep.) of Maine. The motion was lost, 37 to 134. Without further amendments the bill was reported to the House and passed as recommended by the committee, the first appropriation bill of the session to pass unscathed through the House.

Among the miscellaneous business transacted was the passage of two or three private bills; the presentation of a concurrent resolution by Mr. Heatwole (Rep.) of Minnesota, authorizing the appointment by the President of a banking and currency committee to consist of nine citizens, to act with the comptroller of the currency and to report their recommendations and conclusions to Congress, which was referred to the Committee on Banking and Currency; and the presentation of the report of the Congressional commission on the opening of the Chickamauga national park, by Mr. Grosvenor (Rep.) of Ohio.

Mr. Cannon (Rep.) of Illinois reported the sundry civil appropriation bill for the year ending June 30, 1897, and gave notice that he would ask the House to consider it to-morrow.

At 5:10 the House adjourned until to-morrow.

Railroad Land Grants.

Washington, March 26. Secretary Hoke Smith has approved grants of lands to railroads embracing hundreds of thousands of acres. They are: Northern Pacific railroad, 587,447 acres in the Bismarck, N. D., land district; Northern Pacific railroad, 16,824 acres in Washington State; Northern Pacific railroad, 6,452 acres in Montana; Northern Pacific railroad, 11,621 acres in Idaho; Southern Pacific railroad, 5,324 acres in California; Central Pacific railroad, 5,117 acres in California.

TEXAS STATE CONVENTION.

McKinley Supporters Were Ruled Out and a Lively Time Resulted--Two Sets of Delegates.

Austin, Tex., March 26.--The Republican State convention to elect delegates to the national convention met again this morning at 10 o'clock and immediately adjourned until 1 o'clock as the committee on credentials was not ready to report. This was ominous for the McKinleyites, and for shadowed that their delegation from contested counties would not be seated.

In the caucus last night, however, they had captured many of Chairman Cuney's colored voters, and had formed a perfect organization for today's contest. So they were ready for any emergency. At exactly 1 o'clock, when Cuney called the convention to order, and announced that the committee on credentials was ready to report, the committee's report to recommend that the votes of Brown county be rejected by parties favoring McKinley be thrown out. There were contested delegations from 15 counties and the committee in some instances recommended the throwing out of the McKinley delegation and in the other seated both contesting delegations giving each half a vote. They threw out the McKinley delegations from Grayson county headed by Chairman Grant of the State executive committee and McKinley's State leader.

Minority Report.

At the conclusion of the reading of the report a minority report was sent up, but Chairman Cuney promptly ruled it out of order, for the reason, he stated, that it had not been prepared and signed by the committee present. Yells and applause followed his ruling, and the greatest confusion prevailed, putting which a motion was made to give the McKinleyites with the previous question on a motion to adopt the majority report. The previous question was withdrawn and Webb Flannagan offered a substitute for the majority report, but Cuney ruled it out of order and for an hour the whole convention was in tumultuous confusion, pending which a motion to adopt the majority report was made and declared carried by Cuney.

The report of the committee on resolutions favoring sound money, protection and tariff on sugar, lumber, cattle, wool and hides was read and declared adopted.

Cuney, Ferguson, Makemson and Terrell, stated last night, were declared elected delegates to the national convention, the two first being Allison men and the latter for Reed. Amid great confusion Chairman Cuney declared the convention adjourned sine die.

McKinleyite Convention.

The McKinleyites at once made a rush for the platform and were met by Cuney's followers. A rough and tumble fight ensued. One negro delegate drew a six shooter, but police officers who were with platform and police in the pit, promptly gathered him in. Webb Flannagan and Chairman Grant of the Executive committee were knocked down. The officers soon quieted the excitement. Cuney's followers left the hall and the McKinley faction proceeded to organize a convention with 61 delegates, of whom over one-third were colored. A negro was elected chairman and the meeting was harmonious. A sound money and protection platform was adopted and the following McKinley delegates to the national convention elected: Frank Hamilton of Austin, R. F. Smith, colored, of Colorado county; Dr. W. Davis, Fort Worth, and Chairman John Grant of the State executive committee. The convention, then adjourned sine die.

Both conventions elected two electors from the State at large.

HARRISON MIGHT ACCEPT.

Says Drafting and Volunteering are Different Matters.

Indianapolis, March 26.--One of Gen. Harrison's most influential adherents among the Indiana politicians was authority to-day a statement of much significance just now in the political world:

Allen Harrison's being a receptive candidate he said that a letter had been written to the General recently by leading Republicans of Indiana asking him if he would accept in case the St. Louis convention nominated him. In reply to this letter Gen. Harrison is said to have remarked that "Being drafted and volunteering are two different matters." The inference is that he would accept the nomination.

PERFECTING THE PLANS.

Work on the Convention Hall is Being Rapidly Pushed.

St. Louis, March 26.--Work on the Republican national convention building is being rapidly pushed forward and the iron girders and truss supports for the roof are completed. It is expected that the building will be finished by June 1. The seating capacity will be so arranged that over 8,000 spectators and all the delegates will have an unobstructed view of the chairman's desk.

Postmaster Carlisle has arranged for a sub-postal station with carriers, and parties attending the convention can have mail addressed to the convention hall with assurances of prompt delivery. The plans provide seats and tables for 405 newspaper reporters. D. R. Houser of The Globe-Democrat is chairman of the press committee. In a few days a secretary will be chosen by the press committee and his name and address will be published through the press associations.

West Virginia for McKinley.

Charleston, W. Va., March 26.--The Third district convention of West Virginia after an exciting three hours' session, elected the following delegates to the national Republican convention: J. D. Crawford of Fayette county, T. E. Houston, Mcdowell county, with Peter Silman, Kanawha county, and Walter Ballard, Monroe county, alternates. The delegates are uninstructed, but all are for McKinley.

Special Kentucky Elections.

Frankfort, Ky., March 26.--Lieut. Gov. Worthington to-day issued a call for special elections in the Senatorial districts represented in the Legislature by Senator James and Walton, who were unseated for political purposes by the Blackburn Democrats in the Senatorial contest, and also in the district represented by Senator Landes who resigned to become judge of the Court of Appeals. The elections are called for April 21. In view of the early date of the elections this is taken as another strong indication of an extra session of the Legislature at which an attempt will be made to elect Senator Blackburn's successor.

Spain Anxious to Conciliate.

London, March 26.--The Standard publishes a dispatch from its Madrid correspondent saying that the Spanish government is so anxious to conciliate President Cleveland, that Senor Canovas del Castillo, the Prime Minister, has declared that the government had nothing to do with the articles published in The Epoca, which were supposed to reflect the views of the Spanish Cabinet, and which reviewed European alliances and declared that if America desired war, Spain would meet her with dignity.

NOT AFFIRMED NOR DENIED.

Reticence Regarding Recall of Turkish Minister.

GOVERNMENT ACTION REVIEWED

Mavroyeni Bey, the Minister, States He is Ignorant of Any Intention to Recall Him--He May Obtain Leave of Absence.

Washington, March 26.--Mavroyeni Bey, son of the Sultan of Turkey's Greek physician, who since 1887 has been Turkish minister to the United States, but who has now been recalled according to reports from Constantinople, was closeted with Secretary Olney for a considerable time this morning (this being diplomatic day at the State Department.)

On the 31 of December last, the Senate passed a resolution asking the President with the usual qualifications, "if not incompatible with the public interest" to communicate any information in his possession as to alleged cruelties committed on Armenians in Turkey and whether these cruelties had been committed on persons who had declared their intention of becoming Christian citizens or because of their being Christians. The President was also asked to inform the Senate whether the United States had expostulated with Turkey in regard to these matters, or proposed to act in concert with other Christian powers regarding the same.

Review of Action.

On the 11th of December the President sent a response which included a report from Mr. Gresham, then Secretary of State, in which it was stated that no information had been received as to cruelties committed upon citizens of the United States, and consequently no expostulation had been addressed to Turkey. Secretary Gresham further stated that the United States had declined a proposition to participate in an investigation of the alleged cruelties by "a Turkish commission" for the reason that the United States was not a party to the Berlin treaty of 1878, which provided as part of what is known as "the European concert," as follows.

"The Sublime Porte undertakes to carry out without further delay the improvements and reforms demanded by local requirements in the provinces inhabited by the Armenians, and to guarantee their security against the Circassians and Kurds. It will periodically make known the steps taken to this effect to the powers which will superintend their application."

After some discussion the House and Senate adopted more than a month ago the following concurrent resolution on the subject (upon which, as far as known, the President has taken no action):

"Resolved, That the Senate of the United States (the House of Representatives concurring) that it is an imperative duty in the interest of humanity to express the earnest hope that the European concert brought about by the treaty referred to may speedily be given its just effect in such decisive measures as shall stay the hand of fanaticism and lawless violence and as shall secure to the unoffending Christians of the Turkish empire all the rights belonging to them both as men and Christians, and as beneficiaries of the explicit provisions of the treaty above recited.

"Resolved, That the President be requested to communicate these resolutions to the governments of Great Britain, Germany, Austria, France, Italy and Russia.

"Resolved, further, That the Senate of the United States, the House of Representatives concurring, will support the President in the most vigorous action he may take for the protection and security of American citizens in Turkey, and to obtain redress for injuries committed upon the persons or property of such citizens."

Usual Reticence.

At the State Department the usual reticence is observed and Secretary Olney declines to give any information either affirming or denying the reported recall of the Turkish minister.

Mavroyeni Bey himself states that he is entirely ignorant of any intention on the part of his government to recall him, except as he hears of it through the newspapers.

Mr. Alexander W. Terrell, the United States minister to Turkey, has been anxious to obtain leave of absence for some time, but the threatening state of the Armenian situation has made the granting of his request difficult heretofore. Should the situation become less critical it is probable that Mr. Terrell may be granted leave of absence and it is regarded as not unlikely that Mavroyeni Bey may then be given a release from his official duties in Washington at the same time with an opportunity of visiting Turkey.

D. M. MURPHY DEAD.

He Was Chief Official Reporter of the U. S. Senate.

Washington, March 26.--D. M. Murphy, chief official reporter of the United States Senate, died in this city to-day, aged 62 years. He has been in bad health for several years, suffering from nervous disorders.

Last night he had an apoplectic stroke from which he temporarily rallied, only to succumb at 7:40 o'clock to-night. Mr. Murphy became connected with the Senate in 1845 and has remained there continuously since, in 1853 being appointed chief official reporter.

Mr. Murphy reported the proceedings of the famous electoral commission in 1877 and the absolute accuracy of his report in that case as in the numerous exciting debates following the reconstruction period and since were never questioned. In his time he enjoyed the most intimate acquaintance of the most prominent men of his day, by whom he was respected for his high integrity of character. He leaves a family comprising of a wife and several children and two brothers, D. L. Murphy, deputy commissioner of pensions, and E. V. Murphy, his chief assistant in the Senate.

The interment will take place in Philadelphia.

DIED FROM POISON.

Daughter Accused of Poisoning Both Parents for Insurance.

Port Jervis, N. Y., March 26.--On Sunday evening Jacob Snyder and his wife Frances, who live in East Main street, this city, were taken suddenly ill with arsenical poisoning. Jacob died last Tuesday, but Mrs. Snyder lingered along until early this morning, when she died.

Snyder's only daughter, Mrs. Martha Whittaker, who is suspected of having administered the poison, has been under the surveillance of the police since yesterday morning. She was debarred from the presence of her parents by order of the physician last Sunday, at which time it was first ascertained that they had been poisoned. Mrs. Whittaker was practically a prisoner in the sitting room, below the room where her mother lay suffering all day yesterday, a policeman standing guard on the outside of the building.

When Mrs. Snyder was found to be in a dying condition at 6 o'clock last evening, the daughter was admitted to her presence. As soon as she entered the room the mother called out "Get her out of my sight." The daughter did not leave the room, but remained where her mother could not see her. When her mother died Mrs. Whittaker swooned and fell to the floor. Shortly after she was seized with nausea and Dr. Swarthout was hastily summoned. He found her suffering evidently from the effects of poison and administered antidotes. The physician was again called at 7 o'clock and later at 11 o'clock. Coroner Hardin took an ante-mortem statement from Mrs. Snyder on Tuesday, the physician of which he will not make known until the inquest, a jury for which was empanelled this morning.

Autopsies have been performed on the bodies of both the victims, and the stomach, intestines and other organs showed violent irritant poisoning by arsenic. These will be sent to a New York chemist to be analyzed. A box of rat-poison from which about two spoonfuls had been taken is in the possession of Coroner Hardin.

Mrs. Whittaker, by the death of her parents would have come into the possession of $3,000 insurance, $2,000 of which was on the life of her father, payable to the wife, and $1,000 on the life of Mrs. Snyder, payable to her husband. Mrs. Snyder made a will on Tuesday evening in which she devised her property so as to deprive Martha of the $2,000, but the $1,000 insurance on her own life she could not change.

Mrs. Whittaker asserts her innocence of the crime.

NATIONAL LIBERAL FEDERATION.

Home Rule for Ireland Still in the Forefront of the Programme.

London, March 26.--The annual meeting of the National Liberal Federation opened in the Milton church assembly rooms at Huddersfield this morning. There was a large attendance of delegates and it was reported that an attempt would be made to raise the question of leadership. The meeting was called to order by Dr. Robert Spence Watson, president of the National Liberal Federation. Upon the motion of the chairman the annual report and statement of accounts were submitted and read.

The business of the session, which will last two days, will embrace discussion of a large number of alterations and the rules of the federation, together with a number of additional resolutions. The president at the opening of the conference declared that home rule for Ireland was still in the forefront of the programme of the Liberal party. The report and statement of accounts were adopted.

NEBRASKA OR MISSOURI?

River Changed Its Course and Claimants are Disputing.

Lincoln, Neb., March 26.--County Attorney Burnham and Sheriff Glassow of Nemaha county to-day called upon Gov. Holcomb, seeking his advice and assistance in the event of a clash between rival claimants for land in Nemaha county, this State, and Atchison county, Missouri.

The threatened trouble arose and assumed a serious aspect, is the result of the Missouri river changing its channel leaving a part of what was Nebraska an island. The settlers on this land utilized the old river bed, or the Nebraska half of it, as accretions to their farms. Under a law passed by the Missouri Legislature the whole of these accretions were claimed by the State, and recently filings have been made by Missouri claimants on the disputed territory, which comprises between three and four thousand acres. So stubbornly have the original settlers resisted that there is fear of bloodshed. Gov. Holcomb advised caution, promising to consult with Missouri officials looking to an amicable settlement.

FIGHT IN A COURT ROOM.

Three Bad Men Attempt to Do a Peaching Pal.

Council Bluffs, Ia., March 26.--The dignity of the United States Court was ruffled to-day by a fight which took place between three Federal prisoners and a witness while the prisoners, in charge of a marshal, were being taken from the court room.

Charles B. Burns, William Petty and Samuel Long, are on trial for counterfeiting and "Curley" McBee, an old pal of the gang, testified against them. Attempts have been made at different times to get even with the man who "peached," and this noon the quartet met at the entrance to the court room. The alleged counterfeiters were handcuffed and closely guarded, but notwithstanding this precaution, Burns made a lunge with his free hand which staggered McBee and surrounding him, the trio began to beat and kick him. The officers hastened the rescue and using their revolvers as clubs soon had Burns lying insensible on the floor.

All three prisoners are serving penitentiary terms on minor offenses and are looked upon as bad men to deal with.

Two Robbers Captured.

Chicago, March 26.--Harry Kent and Charles Hunter, two desperate negroes, who have been wanted by the police here for highway robbery, were captured this morning. Ten people have already identified the men as robbers who held them up at the point of a revolver and the police believe they can trace 30 or more robberies to them. It was the plan of the negroes to hold up only people with satchels whom they believed to be just about leaving the city. Many people living in other cities have been stopped by them.

When the men were arrested to-day much valuable plunder was discovered in their den.

Alaska Boundary Commission.

Washington, March 26.--Mount St. Elias is not in Canadian territory, to day's report from Ottawa to the contrary notwithstanding. Gen. Duffield, superintendent of the coast and geodetic survey, and the representative of the United States on the joint boundary commission, whose report has been presented to the Canadian Parliament, says that while it is true that the mountain is 2,41 statute miles (2,09 of the Hay-Pauncefote treaty) in a direct line from the ocean, it is furthermore certain that its highest elevation is exactly 19 marine leagues from the coast, and therefore it is happily one of the chief boundary monuments between American and British possessions. The records of the official surveyors establish this beyond question.

New Mexican Bonds.

Washington, March 26.--The House Territories Committee to-day ordered a favorable report on the bill permitting New Mexico to issue bonds amounting to $175,000 for internal improvements, with the Senate amendment validating the $172,000 worth of Brice bonds together with an additional amendment validating the $250,000 Coles bonds, refunding the latter at 4 per cent per annum.

McLaughlin's Case.

Brooklyn, N. Y., March 26.--Judge Dickey of the Supreme court this evening granted a certificate of reasonable doubt in the case of ex-Police Inspector William W. McLaughlin, who was recently convicted of bribery and sentenced to Sing Sing. McLaughlin is now out on $5,000 bail.

Garamen to Race.

London, March 26.--A challenge will shortly be issued by the oaraman Barry to Gaudaur, for a race on the Thames, the event to take place in September and to be for £200 a side.

INTERNATIONAL ARBITRATION.

Plan Providing for a Permanent Court.

LEGALLY ALWAYS IN SESSION.

Composed of Eminent Jurists of Great Britain and the United States--It is Hoped that Other Countries Will Appeal to It.

New York, March 26.--A plan providing for a permanent international court of arbitration for the settlement of disputes between civilized nations in general, the United States and Great Britain in particular, was considered to-day by the committee on international arbitration of the New York State Bar association. The plan was not given for publication because it is not yet considered mature in all its details. It is the object of the committee to obtain the concurrence and co-operation in the final formation of this plan of all the bar associations of this country as well as Great Britain, Canada and Australia.

The meeting was held at the office of Edward G. Whittaker, No. 27 Broadway, president of the association. Correspondence had already been opened with the various bar associations of the country and favorable replies were read to-day from those of twelve States. The meeting went into executive session and the plan, so far as it has at present progressed, was presented to the committee by the sub-committee appointed some time ago to consider the matter.

Before the final adoption of the plan it will be submitted to President Cleveland in a memorial from the association but this will not be until the arbitration committees of all the State bar associations of the country have passed upon it.

President Whittaker, when asked what were the general features of the plan proposed said: "It provides for the naming by the United States government and Great Britain of some of the highest judicial officers who shall constitute a court for the adjudication of all diplomatic differences that shall arise between the two nations. This court is to be always in session in a legal sense. That is it will always be ready to meet whenever called upon by the joint action of the two governments.

"The American members of the court are to be taken from the Federal judiciary. The English, will, of course, make their chancellor a member. It is possible that we may recommend that Germany and France be represented. That will depend to some extent on the attitude of these countries and also of Great Britain. The object will be primarily to settle the disputes between the two countries but we [illegible] the advantages of the court will become so obvious to other nations that they will also seek its benefits and submit their disputes to its decision rather than resort to war."

MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION.

Proposed Conference to Settle the Entire Matter.

Winnipeg, Man., March 26.--The Dominion Conference committee, Sir Donald A. Smith, Hon. Mr. Dickey and Hon. Mr. Derlardie, of the Dominion, appointed to confer with the Manitoba government with a view of reaching a settlement of the existing Manitoba school question, are here.

The Greenway government has prepared no line of action for the conference and will not decide the course to be pursued till advances have been fully made by the Ottawa delegation. Sir Donald expresses the hope that they may end the strife. He declares they came in a conciliatory spirit and hope to be met in a similar spirit. Premier Greenway has gone to a remote portion of the province to attend a political convention. It is probable that the conference will be postponed until Monday.

CUBAN RESOLUTIONS.

Conference Unanimously Adopts Senate Senate Resolutions.

Washington, March 26.--The conferees on the Cuban resolutions after a short session this afternoon agreed to the resolutions as they originally passed the Senate. This shuts off all further debate in the Senate. The House, it is believed, will agree to the report without delay. In the form as thus agreed to, the resolutions are as follows:

Resolved, By the Senate (the House of Representatives concurring therein) that, in the opinion of Congress, a condition of public war exists between the government of Spain and the government proclaimed and for some time maintained by force of arms by the people of Cuba and that the United States of America should maintain a strict neutrality between the contending powers, according to each all the rights of belligerents in the ports and territory of the United States.

Resolved, Further, that the friendly offices of the United States should be offered by the President to the Spanish government for the recognition of independence of Cuba.

The action of the five conferees was unanimous. Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the sixth member of the committee was absent.

Mr. Hitt, the chairman of the House Foreign Affairs committee will, at the first opportunity call up the conference report and ask its consideration. It will probably be followed by some debate, but it is not doubted that it will be adopted.

REPULSED AN ATTACK.

Insurgents Fail to Capture Citadel of Santa Clara.

Havana, March 26.--It is officially reported that a combination of rebel bands taking advantage of the fact that only a small force of Spanish troops was stationed, in the city of Santa Clara, marched on that place on the night of March 22 and penetrated to the center of the town, where they made an attempt to capture the citadel. Gen. Pagan in command of the troops in the city, accompanied only by his staff, personally inspected the points of danger and so disposed the garrison as to save the city. The rebel leader Leoncio Vidal was killed in front of the arsenal opposite the plaza and his body remained on the ground exposed to public view in the morning for several hours. The total losses on the result of the fight are not known.

Davis Will Contests.

Butte, Mont., March 26.--The biggest of all contests recently entered in the Davis will case was begun to-day by Mrs. Elizabeth A. Smith of California, a niece of the dead millionaire, Andrew J. Davis. She also asks that the probate of the alleged forged will be revoked, but set up as a ground that the District Court had lost jurisdiction and had improperly admitted the will to probate before its genuineness had been established, no evidence having been offered on that point when the will was admitted, its admission having been consented to by the original contestants.

Two other contests were entered to-day, one by Olga Davis of Sebastopol, Cal., and one by Harriet Wood of Springfield, Mass., brother and sister of the deceased. The Butte heirs declare that the claims of the California woman who pretends to be a widow of the dead millionaire, is a blackmailing scheme, and that the only foundation for her story is that her first of three husbands was named Abe Davis.

AMERICAN HANDICAP SHOOT.

Unusually Large Number of Contestants Compete.

Long Branch, N. J., March 26.--The Grand American handicap shoot was concluded to-day at Elkwood Park. The moneys were divided, but the blue ribbon honors of the wing shooters for 1896 belong to O. R. Dickey of Boston, who took first place in the shoot-off as well as the silver cup, value $500, presented by the Messrs. Phil Daly, Sr., and Jr., to the winner of the great event.

The entries numbered 100. Five men withdrew, leaving a field of 104, which exceeded by two the largest number of contestants that ever took part in the grand prix at Monte Carlo, the premier event of European pigeon shooting.

The weather to-day was almost perfect, and those who faced the traps for the second round had nothing to complain of. When darkness compelled an adjournment last evening 11 of the 13 had made the second round without a miss. They had not been very long at the traps, however, before the top-notchers began to climb down and the gallant 11 dwindled with startling rapidity until only three remained with clean scores to their credit at the close of the 19th: The fortunate ones were Heikes, Carn Von Longerke and B. W. Claridge. A fast and low left quarter fell dead out of bounds in the 20th, and relegated Heikes to the second division and a low flying incomer disposed of Von Longerke in the same round. Clarkke failed to get on terms with his 21st and the straight scores were over.

The two leading divisions then shot off ties, miss and out.

Dickey grassed six straight and took first place and the cup; Glover missed his sixth as did Carlston, but in shooting off the tie for second place Glover won. Heikes lost his fifth and took fourth place. Fen Cooper failed to score his fourth bird and Thomas missed his second, so they took fifth and sixth places respectively. Cubberly won seventh place from Carl Von Longerke.

INHUMAN TREATMENT.

Boy Chained for Two Years to a Stable Floor.

Cincinnati, March 26.--A special to The Post from Louisville says: A case of the most inhuman treatment of a father to a son came to light this afternoon when Elbert Hendon, 11 years old, was brought here by a minister and several other gentlemen. For two years the boy had been chained to the floor of a stable and only on a few occasions was he allowed the freedom of the lot, and then it was under the guard of some member of the family.

The boy lives with his father, William Hendon, about two miles from Jeffersonville. Two years ago he ran away and when his father found him he said the boy should not repeat it, and it is claimed, securing a chain, he welded it to the boy's leg and fastened the other end to the stable floor. The chain was not more than two feet in length and for two years the boy remained a prisoner. This morning he secured a horseshoe, pried the staple off and ran to Jeffersonville with the chain still dangling to his foot. Action will be taken to prosecute the father for his inhuman treatment.

ATTEMPTED ASSASSINATION.

Clothing Manufacturer Shot at by an Insane Youth.

Rochester, N. Y., March 26.--Louis Black of the clothing manufacturing firm of Black & Meyer, in North St. Paul street, was the victim of an attempted assassination this noon as he was on his way to lunch. The would-be assassin is Leon Rosenbaum, 21 years of age, a son of Mr. Rosenbaum of the firm of Seel, Rosenbaum & Steefel, clothing manufacturers, whose factory is near that of Black & Meyer.

When Mr. Black crossed Andreas street, he passed Mr. Rosenbaum and greeted the boy with "Good morning." He had taken but a few steps when a pistol shot rang out and he felt something strike him in the back. Turning, he exclaimed, "My God, what are you shooting me for?" Rosenbaum continued to fire and Mr. Black held his umbrella in front of him in an effort to protect himself from the flying bullets. Three shots were fired, the young man being within ten feet of his victim. A large number of people gathered and Rosenbaum escaped up an alley way. Mr. Black walked to his house near by, and an examination of his back showed a bullet hole through his coat and vest and the vest buckle had been shattered. This evidently saved his life. The boy is thought to be insane, as the families of Black and Rosenbaum are on intimate terms.

FOUND IN A BOX.

Dead Body Among Unclaimed Freight in Chicago.

Chicago, March 26.--Packed in chloride of lime and badly decomposed the body of a man was this afternoon found in a box by Carl Hoff of Austin, Ill., one of the purchasers of a lot of unclaimed freight which was stored in the warehouse of Wakem & McLoughlin in South Water street. The box was marked "G. M. Morgan, 103 Jefferson Court, Chicago."

Philip Greiss and Carl Hoff, both of Austin, came into the city to-day to buy unclaimed freight in Wakem & McLoughlin's warehouse. The goods were delivered at the house of Hoff, who is a contractor. Hoff ordered Frank Ahlgrim and Charles Ramus, two of his employes, to open the boxes. The first one opened contained a new trunk. Around it was placed a layer of sawdust. The trunk was opened and inside was found a hermetically sealed box of zinc made to fit the trunk. This being broken open was found to hold the corpse of a man badly decomposed. It had first been doubled up and wrapped with small rope and then packed in tight with chloride of lime. The men were horrified at their find and with Hoff went to the police station at Austin and reported their experience. A patrol wagon was sent for the body and it was taken to the county morgue. The police are now working on the case trying to discover where the body came from and why it was so packed. The name of G. M. Morgan does not appear in the Chicago directory.

A Tell-Tale Heart.

Cleveland, O., March 26.--Coroner Arbuckle has in his possession a gruesome object. It is the heart of John Walsh, who was murdered Tuesday night on the west end of the Central viaduct in front of Ed Murphy's saloon. The police found Walsh dead in the gutter with a gaping wound in his left side. At the post mortem examination the heart was cut out and placed in a glass jar. It plainly shows the knife wound and will be held in evidence. John Gallagher is in jail charged with the murder of Walsh. Gallagher was arrested while attempting to escape in a box car. The murder was the result of a saloon fight.

IT CERTAINLY IS A HUMMER.

A Six Inch Vein of $10,000 Ore on Gold Hill.

ANCHORIA LELAND OF COURSE.

The Result of Working on One of Maloney's Early Discoveries--The Moon Anchor Also Records a Rich Strike--Leora V Too.

Special to The Gazette.

Cripple Creek, March 26. Gold hill has become famous within the past 12 months for the number of rich strikes made in the mines which have been opened up there and the discovery of a six-inch streak of ore in the Maloney workings on the Anchor that is valued at about $10,000 to the ton, which has been made within the past two days will make it even more famous.

In the early days of the Maloney lease, which has since done so much towards demonstrating the great values of Gold hill, a small prospect hole opened up a vein which looked well and which showed values of about $20 to the ton on the surface. The discovery of the big vein running in another direction across this property resulted in the rejection of the first discovery for the time being, and Mr. Maloney put his workings down on the vein from which he has shipped so much rich ore and which the company will work on in the near future.

In sinking his shaft Mr. Maloney encountered the cross vein which was first discovered in the little prospect hole, but it did not show very high values, and no further notice was taken of it. A week or so ago a drift was started on the cross vein from the bottom of the 300-foot shaft and in the 60 feet of work that has been done on it a good many tons of ore have been shipped. Two days ago an uprise was started in the vein, which is a good healthy fellow about three feet wide, and the result was the finding of a six inch streak of ore that is richer than anything ever found on Anaconda-Leland ground, or, for that matter, on any part of Gold hill. The streak of ore which runs with the vein and is not a pocket or anything of that kind, is valued at $10,000 to the ton, and is of course, very rich in sylvanite. The last reports from the hill are to the effect that the strike is just as important and rich as when it was first discovered.

This is the second important strike made within the past two weeks on Anchoria-Leland ground. The other one was the unexpected discovery of 11-ounce ore in the big working shaft which is being put down on the Chance.

Another good strike made within the past day or two and which is also credited to Gold hill is the discovery of a three-foot vein of sylvanite ore in Moon-Anchor ground, at one time part of the Anchoria-Leland company's property.

The first sign of the new ore was a general change in the formation, but it came so suddenly that several hundred pounds of the ore were thrown over the dump before the miners appreciated what they had broken into. The vein is now very rich in sylvanite and carries from eight to ten ounces in gold to the ton.

Moon-Anchor Strike.

Another shipping mine has been added to the ever growing list in Cripple Creek, and in this particular instance to those located on Ironclad hill. The very latest to be credited as such is the Leora V., belonging to the Emma Aimee company. This property has always shown up well and dirt from which gold could be panned has been found in the workings almost from the grass roots. Not very much attention was given to this, however, and the shaft was sunk to a depth of 75 feet before a drift was started and before any great body of ore was encountered. A drift has now been started north on the vein and has been extended 20 feet. At this point an ore chute has been encountered which has been followed for a distance of 30 feet and the drift is still in ore. About 16 tons of pay rock have already been taken out and by to-morrow night the output will aggregate 20 tons. This will be sent to the Brodie mill and will average not less than $40 to the ton. The point where the ore has been encountered is just at the side line of the Annex lode, but as this particular portion of the Annex as well as the Leora V., are under lease to Jennings Bros., and Kennedy, there will be plenty of ground in which to follow the ore chute.

The June Bug, on Galena hill, has been bonded and leased for $20,000. Work will be started up at once in the old shaft which is 80 feet deep and the lessees will erect a steam hoist on the property. There is a very good showing in the bottom of the shaft, where some good-looking quartz has been encountered. Occasional good assays have been obtained on the rock, which show it to have a value of from $00 to $40 to the ton in places.

A rumor is going the rounds here to-night that Mr. James Burns has or is about to resign his position as manager of the Portland company. The reasons which are given for this move are various. Some are saying that Mr. Burns has been requested to resign by the directors, but this is not credited. If the rumor should prove correct it will probably be found that Mr. Burns resigned of his own inclination and from no other cause.

THREATENED STRIKE.

Labor Troubles at Republican National Convention Hall.

St. Louis, March 26.--The laborers employed in building the Republican national convention hall threaten to strike unless a sub-contractor discharges the non-union men at work on the iron truss work and girders of that building. The serious nature of the threatened trouble will be understood when it is recalled that the organized labor instituted a strike on the Minneapolis building in 1892 and party leaders afterwards asserted that was one of the causes leading to the defeat of the candidates chosen in that hall. Meeker Bros. are the sub-contractors, and refuse to dismiss their non-union employes. They are backed up by Chief Contractor McGuire, who declares that if the labor union is to interfere in the matter he will discharge union men and fill their places with non-union workmen.

Bucket Shops Raided.

Chicago, March 26.--Five bucket shops were raided this afternoon, the arrests were made on warrants sworn out by a man supposed to be a dummy in the employ of the civic federation. The places attacked were William Shaker's places at 124 Clark street, 73 Jackson street and 119 Clark street; the Rialto Commission company in the Rialto building, and Perry & Smith at 9 Calhoun place were also raided. Fourteen clerks were gathered in at the Rialto Commission company's offices, and 16 employes were arrested in other houses. It is rumored that the other bucket shops will be raided to-morrow.

Australian Gold.

Washington, March 26.--From information received by the director of the mint he estimates the production of gold in Australia during the calendar year 1895 to have been $16,250,000 against $41,761,000 for the calendar year 1894, an increase of $7,000,000.

THE SUNDAY GAZETTE.

Next Sunday's Gazette will again be a special number, the demands upon our advertising space and the necessary chronicling of events in this very lively city requiring a sixteen page paper. With new and improved machinery The Gazette can and does get out a better paper than ever before, and its advertising columns are the proof that it can afford to do so.

The special feature of next Sunday's paper will be a detailed account of the building operations which are now going on in the city of Colorado Springs. We propose to show what buildings are being erected and by whom and what they are to cost. While the facts and figures gathered by Gazette men are not all in enough to warrant the assertion that the amount will surprise all but the most sanguine, it will show to the city's present growth and prosperity. The class of buildings now being erected, as well as their number, is a most conclusive proof that the people who are coming to Colorado Springs expect to remain here and make homes to live in, and shows beyond a doubt that the era of growth which we have been so long expecting is fairly upon us.

A number of advance orders have been received, and those who wish extra copies should engage them at the business office. Last Sunday's paper was sold out before noon, and though a larger number will be printed this week, we expect a greater demand for them.

If you are interested in the prosperity of Colorado Springs do not fail to read next Sunday's Gazette.

McKINLEY'S POPULARITY.

It is by no means assured that Mr. McKinley will receive the Republican nomination at St. Louis, but even his rivals are willing to admit that he is at present the leading candidate, and will have in the convention more votes than anyone else. That he will be elected if nominated, and that he will make a good president if elected, no one can doubt. It is as certain as anything in the future can be that the nominee of the Republican convention, whoever he is, will receive the necessary majority of the electoral college, and Mr. McKinley, as Governor of the State of Ohio and as a Congressman, has a record of which anyone might be proud.

But it is not to his record of public service, or even his personal friendships, that Mr. McKinley's popularity is due. It is because he has come to be identified in the popular mind with the idea of protection to American industry, because he is regarded as the antithesis of Grover Cleveland, because he is looked upon as the "Apostle of Good Times."

Republican success in the present year will be due to a revulsion of feeling against the Democracy, against those misfortunes of the past four years for which the Democratic administration is held responsible, against such things as the bond issues, the increase of the public debt, the mess in Hawaii, the general inefficiency and incoherence of the Democratic party in power and its inability to carry on the government of the country. More than all else it will be due to a vote against hard times.

Democratic victory was helped four years ago by misrepresentation of the McKinley bill. The Democrats identified the name of the "Apostle of Protection" with the policy which they sought to overthrow. McKinley became a name which voiced a sentiment, a feeling of opposition to capital's undue share of wealth produced, and the vote against McKinley and McKinley's bill contributed largely to the Republican overthrow.

Time has brought revenge. Whatever may be thought of the theory of protection, it cannot be denied that the predictions of the protectionists have come true. The hard times may be ascribed to various causes, but the hard times are here. The explanations which the protectionists give for the hard times may be denied, but what the protectionists said would happen, has happened, and that cannot be denied.

This is why the "Apostle of Protection" has become the "Apostle of Good Times," and this is why Mr. McKinley, of the McKinley bill, is to-day the leading and most popular candidate for the Republican nomination.

THE CUBAN RESOLUTIONS.

The two houses of Congress, after having passed Cuban resolutions in a haste which left little opportunity for proper discussion of a most important subject, now manifest a disposition to postpone final action beyond reasonable bounds. While the resolutions as passed in the Senate and House differed in wording, there was no essential difference in the meaning of sympathy and good will towards the Cubans which they [illegible] to express, and it should be difficult for House and Senate to agree on the proper form of expression.

Having gone so far, Congress owes it as a duty to the people of Spain, to the people of Cuba, and to all others concerned, to state definitely what is the position of the United States in this matter. If we intend to recognize the Cuban republic, it would be kindness both to Spain and to Cuba to say so, and to have the matter settled as soon as may be, by diplomacy or force of arms. If we do not intend to help the Cubans we are contributing to unnecessary bloodshed and destruction by holding out false hopes to the insurgents. If the concurrent resolutions were intended merely as an expression of opinion, that Congress would be glad if the President would take some action, they should be put into such a definite form that there will be no misunderstanding what is meant.

It is undeniable that a tremendous influence in favor of the Cubans has been brought to bear upon the Congress and the people of the United States, in favor of the Cuban insurgents, and this influence has not been due entirely to love of freedom and the welfare of the Cubans. It cannot be said how large a part of the vote in favor of the Cuban resolutions was due to a desire of members of Congress to seem to do something that they had been petitioned and begged to do without taking decisive action or embroiling us with a foreign power, but it does look as though a number of Senators were afraid to face the responsibilities of their vote.

We do not say that they are wrong, either in their expression of sympathy or in their reluctance to face the possibilities of Spanish war. But action of some sort is necessary, at once, and when Congress does act, we believe the result will be more satisfactory to the Cubans than to Mr. DeLome and the government of Spain.

It is to be true, as reported from New York, that Mr. Ballington Booth has received an offer from the headquarters of the Salvation Army for his return to his command. It appears clearly enough that a mistake has been made somewhere, and that the fault does not lie with Ballington Booth. It is probable, however, that the trouble has gone too far to permit an easy settlement, and Ballington Booth's loyalty to his comrades and associates will operate to prevent any return to the conditions of [illegible]. It seems likely that it will be left for General Booth to decide [illegible] the most expedient thing for the Army would not have taken place. The offer to reinstate the former Army commander is an admission that he was not wrong in his share in the controversy.

There are many Republican conventions which show a growth among the political bosses for votes, rather than a control among the votes. Whatever may be said in favor of the present system, there is something lacking in giving equal representation to the Southern districts, which never did and probably never will choose a Republican, and the Northern district which may be depended upon for a good majority for the Republican candidate.

In the death of Brigadier General Casey the United States loses a faithful servant and one who contributed largely to the welfare of the country in whose army he was enlisted. The Chief of Engineers is little of a popular hero. There is no dash and daring about his service, no galloping through the cannon smoke and other spectacular performances to catch the public eye and win the popular applause. But the army needs its engineers, not less than its fighting generals, and the men in the offices and the men in the wagons were quite as necessary in war and in peace as the men on horseback. There is praise due also to the man who faithfully planned and built forts and coast defences, aqueducts and big department buildings at the national capital and monuments to Washington, to Jefferson, and to Garfield.

The coroner's jury in the New Castle mine explosion case has brought in its verdict without adding anything to the public information. That the disaster was caused by an explosion of dust or gas and that the cause of the explosion was unknown was evident from the beginning, and nothing additional has been learned. Three causes, however, are most likely, and it seems probable that the explosion came either from a carelessly lit match, from a blast or from an open safety lamp. In this connection it is interesting to note that more keys to these lamps had been given out than was consistent with safety, and also that an ingenious plan has been adopted by the Consolidated mine at New Castle to prevent accidents from that cause. The lamps henceforth to be used in that mine will be locked with a steel bolt which can only be drawn by the use of a powerful electro magnet which will be kept in the company's office. However, it is safe to believe, judging by past experiences, that the miners will open those lamps somehow, even if they have to take a pickax to do it.

There is nothing that helps Cripple Creek so much as dividends. It is easy to talk about rich assays and mill runs, of formations and ore chutes and reduction processes, but the thing that really appeals to the innermost part of a man, is making financially—is a dividend. It means good ore and good district and good shipping and milling facilities and good management; it means in short good mining. We welcome therefore the Moon-Anchor company to the list of dividend payers. We congratulate the officers of the company and its stockholders, and wish them many happy returns of the day.

Ambassador Hayard and Minister De Lome should congratulate each other that there is something in American institutions which permits the expression of individual opinions. The public estimate is that they express their individual opinions too much.

Only one member of the House of Representatives voted against the removal of the last disability charged against Confederate veterans. Truly the war is over, and all that remains is the memories of bravery and patriotism.

Thirteen million dollars is the amount which the United States will spend for Decoration Day this year. Except for the recent war scares it might be less, and except for the collapse of the scares it might easily be much more.

Colorado has answered the question, Shall we be more prosperous with free coinage of silver? and decided it unanimously. What she is called on to vote about now is, Will we be more prosperous with protection than without it?

Chauncey Depew says McKinley will be nominated at St. Louis. But he took the precaution to remember that he had just been chosen a delegate to the national convention before he said so.

An international compliment was received by the United States when it was asked to test Russian armor plate at the American proving ground.

Turkey threatens to recall her Minister from Washington because of American sympathy for Armenians. We shall be sorry if she does so.

It would take a team of eight four days to traverse the length of the railroads which Denver has built to Cripple Creek—on paper.

The Joyous Time.

Same old robin, same old song;
Same old world wind blowing strong;
Same old cloudlets, same old sky,
Same old brooklets babbling by.

Same old violets, same old blue;
Same old orchards, same old hue;
Same old look, in everything;
Same old season, same old spring.
—Chicago Record.

Poor, but Honest.

A year ago some grain merchants and bankers of Chicago advanced, as they then thought, over $10,000 to purchase seed corn and wheat for the farmers who had been brought to suffering by drouth in western Kansas and eastern Nebraska. They feared they did not expect any return, but the other day they received from the Indian Ocean, the beneficiaries of what was intended by the contributors to be a gift, that which was received as a loan, placed some in the hands of the secretary of the Chicago Board of Trade as the first installment of payment. That speaks well for the integrity of Nebraska and Kansas farmers. They did not receive much for their crop even last year, but it seems they preferred to give a part of their profits to pay back the generous help which was extended to them when they had not the means to plant their crops. There seems to be some pretty good material in the West, notwithstanding the [illegible] estimate of them [illegible].

Working the Town.

A few months ago a man with a fake advertising scheme came to town, and [illegible] with his advertisement of the [illegible]. His modus operandi was to [illegible] printed, and [illegible] the latest thing we have ever seen on us. The merchants are now using the letterheads for blotters. It would [illegible] likely that, capacity [illegible] would [illegible] all we can learn, [illegible] the town [illegible] successful. The [illegible] commence to [illegible] the town anyway, and it would not be [illegible] their expense to add an item to the Mining Industry.

Senatorial Statistics.

A Prairie State Senator with a startling deal turn of mind has made some remarkable deductions based upon the ability already displayed by Senator Marion Butler of North Carolina to make long speeches. Mr. Butler only entered the Senate at the beginning of the present session, yet he has already made six speeches of considerable length. The statistician figures that if he should continue in the way he has begun, and should remain in the Senate as long as Senator Harris of Tennessee it will cost the United States something over $[illegible] to reprint his speeches.—Pueblo Chieftain.

DECIDED IT A SUICIDE.

Coroner's Investigation of the Death at Fountain.

MAKES AN UGLY STORY.

Mrs. Pettengell was Rendered So Unhappy by Husband and Friend that She Did an Awful Deed—Investigation Made Yesterday.

Yesterday Coroner Marlow went to Fountain accompanied by District Attorney Blackmer and held an inquest on the remains of Mrs. A. M. Pettengell, who committed suicide at that place last Saturday. The result of the investigation was a verdict by the jury that the woman came to her death by arsenical poisoning, administered by her own hands. The coroner thought the verdict proper from the evidence but says that there are those who are morally guilty of the woman's death as much as if they had killed her.

There has been much talk and feeling in Fountain over Mrs. Pettengell's death, and it was at the request of the citizens that he held the examination. He did not have the body exhumed as it was not necessary at this time.

From the evidence, it was developed that Pettengell told his wife that if she did not get a divorce he would. He and Mrs. Steen had arranged to get married and he had secured a house for her to live in at Arkansas Junction where he had gone to work on the section. She came up here last Saturday to arrange for the removal and this fact Mrs. Pettengell was aware of. Mrs. Steen had been living with Mrs. Pettengell ever since she got her divorce. She admitted on the stand that she was arranging to marry him. She told of other attempts Mrs. Pettengell had made to take her life.

A Miss Townsend testified that Miss Steen, the daughter, had said on Sunday that Mrs. Pettengell was sick when her mother left for the depot to come here. Miss Steen, however, said on the stand that Mrs. Pettengell was not sick until afterwards.

A Miss Hughes testified that Miss Steen had said that Mrs. Pettengell had symptoms before her mother left. When Mrs. Steen returned and was asked if Mr. Pettengell would probably come to the funeral she had said: "He promised to come afterwards." This was considered significant.

It was shown by Mrs. Pettengell's son that there was rough on rats kept in a bureau drawer. It was locked up and he had the key. It was found unlocked the next morning after her death.

A Mrs. Hutchins said that she had examined the bureau drawer and there was no evidence that it had been tampered with.

Rose Allen, and nearly all the others testified to threats made by Mrs. Pettengell that she would take her life if she could get anything to do it with. There was much testimony by others that she had stated before she died that she had taken arsenic, and to some had declared that it was ammonia. Also evidence was given to show that the woman knew that her husband wanted to marry the Steen woman and had been forced to get a divorce by threats and entreaty.

Altogether it seems to have been a very pitiful case, the dead woman having been led a life of misery until she could stand it no longer. She left a baby a few months old.

More X Rays.

Professors Cajori and Strieby of Colorado College, who have been experimenting with X rays ever since the first news of their discovery and who were the first in the west to secure good results, have been getting some fine pictures recently. By the introduction of two Leyden jars into their circuit in addition to the Rhumkorff coils, they succeeded in getting very intense discharges and very effective rays. A plate which was developed Monday showed a pencil, a pair of scissors and a couple of small screws. The metal cap of the pencil was very distinct, the lead appeared like a heavy line, and the wood was very faintly outlined.

Wednesday night a still more interesting plate was developed, the object exposed being a mouse and a part of a rabbit's foot. The bones of the mouse came out beautifully in certain places, and in the rabbit's foot, where the toes had been covered with thick hair, the bones were entirely distinct. In these experiments the plates were not in a holder, but were enclosed in a double thickness of black paper, such as is used for the protection of photographic plates from the sunlight. Professor Cajori has received an invitation to demonstrate the rays before the Colorado Science Teachers association of Denver.

Another Book Carnival.

One of the most successful entertainments ever given in Colorado Springs was the book carnival at the Coburn Library, which was given soon after the opening of that building in April, 1891. The successes of that night have been a fruitful theme of conversation ever since, and there are a great many people in Colorado Springs who will be interested to know that arrangements are being made for a repetition of the affair, with improvements. The present project originated with the Women's club of the city, and they have had charge of the arrangements so far, but the intention is to call in the aid of other associations and of individuals not connected therewith. The carnival is to be held about the 8th of May in the Coburn library. Committees of various kinds are now being formed who will have charge of the various parts of the carnival and these will be announced as soon as completed. Two years ago those present were costumed to represent, in charade or otherwise, the name of some book, but this year attendants will be permitted to represent characters from well known books as well as their titles. The carnival is sure to be a success and much interest has already been shown in the preliminary arrangements.

THE BICYCLE TRACK.

Wheelmen Take Hold of the Project in Earnest.

A good crowd turned out to the track meeting at Weber's last night. Mr. Pease explained that the object of the call was to raise money to build the track. It must be done at once if done this year.

The track association has bought the ground, built the horse track and stables and it seems only right that bicycle riders should raise the money to build the bicycle track. The association only asks that wheelmen raise $500. They will add the rest and will build the stands, fence, etc. $500 of this sum has been pledged by a gentleman of this city provided the remaining $500 is put up. Already about $300 has been subscribed.

Mr. Stark then addressed the meeting and said that as a financial investment the stock of this association is well worth taking up. Beside all improvements the land consists of 40 lots which would sell to-day at $50 apiece. The association is capitalized for only $25,000. He had sold $200 worth yesterday to investors.

It is not asking a man to give money toward the track; but it is offering him a good investment, which will net a good return on his money.

About twenty subscription papers were taken by men present, who pledged themselves to raise various sums. The meeting was then adjourned until next Tuesday night.

GILES OTIS FOR VICE-PRESIDENT.

That is the Way the Distinguished Agitator Sizes It Up.

Yesterday Giles Otis Pearce received a notice from the clerk of the committee on elections that on the 8th of April the contest against John A. Bell for a seat in the House of Representatives will be considered. Mr. Pearce says that he will not be there, but will be represented by able counsel, a prominent New Englander, Pearce. It will be remembered, was a candidate for Congress two years ago on a 16 to 1 independent ticket. The returns did not show that he had more than a handful of votes, but he claimed that there had been fraud and that he had been counted out, and filed a contest. Pearce says the testimony is clear and that he will be seated, as Tom Bowen will not be represented there.

Giles says that there is a call for him to be a delegate to the Republican convention at St. Louis, and that it may result in his nomination for Vice President. He would prefer to be a delegate at large from this State. It is a simple and easy way to settle the vexed financial policy for the Republicans. If they can have Morton for President and Giles Otis for Vice President, it will not be necessary to make an utterance on the silver question. All that will be necessary to do is hoist the Pearce emblem of gold, copyrighted. The people of Colorado and the West will be satisfied with seeing the emblem and not a word for the white metal.

Mr. Pearce would be a candidate much talked about if nominated, in the past two years he has served in the State militia in a private capacity to Gov. Waite in war times, has run for Congress, has raised Pike's Peak a thousand feet or more, discovered how to take billions of gold from water, and is now driving a tunnel through the Rocky mountains a distance of 10 miles and at an expense of 25 millions of dollars.

Elk's New Officers.

Last evening the Elks had their annual election of officers. The officers selected were as follows: Exalted Ruler, H. A. Fergusons; Esteemed Leading Knight, J. S. Hall; Esteemed Loyal Knight, D. L. Christopher; Lecturing Knight, W. H. Reynolds; Secretary, L. R. Whitmarsh; Treasurer, A. M. Goetchius; Tyler, A. B. Meservey.

The officers were then installed by Gen. B. F. Klee of Denver, district deputy, the ceremony being very pretty and impressive.

At the conclusion of the exercises a social session was held, of which Mr. Will Reynolds was chairman. It was about the jolliest time that has been seen among the Elks in this city. Everyone present was made to do something for the entertainment of the others, and much talent was developed in the membership. A nice luncheon was served.

Arrested for Rioting.

Scranton, Pa., March 26.—County Detective Layshon and a posse went to Dunmore early this morning and arrested John Welsh, John Lynch, Peter O'Hara and Joseph Payton, in connection with the riot there on Monday, when 50 men and boys made an attack on the expriest Huthwohl and in which four men were shot. One of the injured, William Stark, is dying. The trouble has caused bitter feeling among the Catholics and Protestants in Dunmore. The prisoners were lodged in the county jail.

Will Not Reduce Stock.

Chicago, March 26.—The stockholders of the National Linseed Oil company, at a special meeting held here to-day, decided not to reduce the capital stock from $8,000,000 to $3,000,000. Of the 180,000 shares of stock, only 105,000 were represented by persons and proxies, and less than 90,000 shares favored the decrease. Under the law it will require a two-thirds vote of the stock of the organization or 120,000 shares to carry the proposition. After voting confidence in the present management, the meeting adjourned.

Arbitration Desired.

London, March 26.—Rt. Hon. C. T. Ritchie, president of the Board of Trade, in a speech at the dinner of the Association of Chambers of Commerce said with reference to the difficulty existing between the United States and Great Britain, he believed the solution would be found in friendly arbitration within limits meeting the approval of the nation. The government, he asserted, would be glad if a permanent court of arbitration were established by which difficulties arising between the United States and British governments might be settled without the possibility of a conflict between the two nations. Mr. Ritchie said there were now before the United States government proposals proceeding from Lord Salisbury which he hoped would result in such a solution of the trouble.

Meeting of Stockholders.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of The Rio Grande Western Construction Company for the election of directors, and the transaction of such other business as may be proper, will be held at twelve o'clock noon on the first Monday in April, 1896, at its office in the Gazette building, Colorado Springs, Colorado.

Mines, Stocks, Investments

Colorado Springs Mining Stock Association.

Colorado Springs, March 26.—The market was in good shape at the Exchange here again to-day, a good deal of business being done and prices remaining firm. The silver stocks again led the way and Mollie Gibson was the most active trader of the two. This stock sold to the extent of 14,500 shares and continued to climb in price. The opening sales in it were made at 80 and from that it was soon going at 84 but finally dropped a couple of cents. It was strong at 82 at the close of the call, with none offered at less than 83. Argentum Juniata opened strong at 65 but developed weakness towards the close when it was going at 64. Among the Cripple Creekers Isabella and Work were the most active. The first named sold in good sized blocks at from 54 to 55, and Work at 15¾ and 15¾. Fanny Rawlings was a seller at 12 and better but there was no great demand for it at that figure. Consolidated made a very good showing and was credited with over 10,000 sales at 17¾ and 17½, at which it appears to be in very good demand. Golden Fleece also made a good showing and although the blocks sold were only small ones the price was firm at $1.62 and $1.63. Anaconda was a seller at 67, Union at 50, Mt. Rosa at 13 and 13½ and Trachyte at 4¼.

HOME RUN TROUBLES.

Some History of the Mine and Why It is to be Sold.

An advertisement in the columns of The Gazette is to the effect that the Home Run lode will be exposed for sale at public auction on the third day of next month. The management of the Home Run company is desirous of every publicity being given to this sale and takes this means of doing so.

The Home Run company has a capitalization of 750,000 shares with about 150,000 shares in the treasury. When the rich vein running through the property was first discovered it was much talked about and it led to considerable activity in the neighborhood. Pay ore was produced from the vein from the grass roots down and about $18,000 worth of ore has been taken out. The smelter certificates show that the smelting ores taken out averaged $112 to the ton net and that the mill ores netted better than $20 to the ton. Some of the ore assayed as high as $550 per ton.

In spite of this remarkably good showing the company finds itself in trouble. Owing to the large improvements and the rapidity with which the development work was done, an indebtedness of about $9,600 in all was incurred. Matters were further complicated by the death of two of the largest stockholders. The administrators of their estates declined to contribute towards the indebtedness of the company and also refused to contribute anything towards the further development of the property. There is now no alternative but to sell out the claim according to the judgment obtained. Purchasers or bidders for the claim must be prepared to meet a bond of $15,000 which is due in July next.

The Santa Rita, adjoining the Home Run on Squaw mountain, belongs to a company which is capitalized with 1,000,000 shares. Some of the stock has sold as high as [illegible] giving an estimated value of the property of $[illegible]. The Santa Rita is on the same contact as the Home Run over [illegible] feet of which runs through the latter property.

American Consolidated Company.

A good many questions have been asked lately about the American Consolidated M. and M. company. The following facts concerning it will be found correct.

The company owns the Bessie Y. on Squaw mountain, near the Home Run and the Black Diamond and Orbit lodes in the same location.

The Grace Darling lode is situated near the Highland J. J. on Battle mountain, the Prospect east of the Nelly Bly on Beacon hill, and all belong to the company. There is also a three-quarter interest in the Last Stake lode on the Victor town site.

All of the company's properties are being patented. The advertising period on four of them has expired and all of the claims, with one exception, are leased and are being worked by lessees. None of these well located properties are bonded and in most of them a very fine showing is being made by the workers. Most of the claims are near shipping mines.

Claim Jumping.

D. H. S. makes the following suggestions to the Salt Lake Tribune:

There are in every mining district irresponsible and lawless characters who engage in the infamous occupation of staking off ground occupied in part or wholly by prior locators in good faith. Some of these scoundrels hope thereby to secure a few dollars by a quick sale to some innocent purchaser, while others attempt to levy blackmail upon the bona fide owners. This species of thievery has been carried on quite extensively in this district. In some cases the scoundrels have not even gone to the trouble of constructing new monuments or stakes, but have destroyed the notices and substituted their own. Of course they can, if caught, be punished for this, but the rightful owner would not be reimbursed for annoyance and injury. Claim jumping could be, in a great measure, prevented if a law were enacted, providing that every notice of a mining location filed for record, should contain a declaration that the ground described therein contained no monument, stake nor notice of any prior location, or if said ground did contain any such monument, stake or notice, all rights intended to be secured by same had lapsed owing to failure of prior locators to do the annual work required by law, and that said ground was not occupied nor claimed by any prior locator under any valid claim, and providing further that every location filed for record must be verified by the affidavit of two locators of same, or by one locator and a witness. Our legislature should enact such a law at once. It would diminish litigation, and advance mining enterprises.

A Ball of Woe.

The following from the Cincinnati Enquirer seems to be a very successful attempt to "josh" somebody. To anyone who knows anything about Cripple Creek this is about the most ridiculous thing ever published:

The Enquirer has received a letter from John Marsh, formerly a citizen of the state, who is now living in Cripple Creek, Colo. Mr. Marsh's letter is as follows, and his description of the situation there is given just as he wrote it, with the necessary corrections required for turning a workingman's letter into newspaper English:

Victor, Colo., March 5, 1896.

To the Editor of the Enquirer:

I came from Ohio to Cripple Creek on the published representations made about the country, only to find—like thousands of others—that the reports were false. Gold is a very scarce article here, and if one wants any of it he must get it from some tenderfoot who has just arrived from the East. I have seen six dead men carried out of a lodging house in one night, put in boxes and buried the next night, but you will find no account of it in any of the papers published here. Nor will you find anything in them about a disease known as Cripple Creek black grip, which attacks the throat and carries the patient off in 24 hours.

The place is full of brokers and thieves; there are six good mines here and about 6000 or more holes in the ground which they are trying to sell to the English, or Eastern suckers, as they call them. The whole thing is the greatest fraud on earth, and worthless stocks are sold daily. These certificates are not worth the paper they are printed on. Merchants are paying high rents, and as people have nothing to buy with the merchants are unable to succeed. The people say the East is in favor of gold. Well, we will give them our gold certificates and get even with them. It is not an uncommon thing to see 10,000 shares of mining stock offered for a 25-cent meal and refused.

Two policemen are kept busy running men out of camp who came here with money from Ohio and other states, and who have been bunkoed out of all they had. There are "sure thing" gamblers in the best hotels, and slot machines even in bedrooms to catch Eastern suckers. If you have money and want to lose it, come to Cripple Creek. If you want a case of black grip, come to Cripple Creek. If you want to experience the saddest disappointment of your life, come to Cripple Creek. If you are looking for work and don't want to find it, come to Cripple Creek. If you want to get sandbagged, come to Cripple Creek. If you want to die with your shoes on, come to Cripple Creek. If you want to make a fool of yourself, come to Cripple Creek. If you want to die and be buried like a dog, come to Cripple Creek.

All of these things you can get at Cripple Creek, but you will never get any gold there. You may come in a Pullman car like a gentleman, and you will be lucky if you are not on the rock pile with other vagrants inside of a week. You will come full of hope, but if you go away at all you will be hungry. This camp is the greatest lying, bunko scheme on earth. Any way, this is the experience of the writer, who is a citizen of Ohio, and who wishes that he was back there. Yours truly,

JOHN MARSH.

Current News.

Seven men were put to work on a group of ten claims owned by William Yankee, A. J. Whafton and Ed. Moore, six miles north of Gillett, last Sunday.

The shaft of the Fry lease on the north end of the Anna Lee is down 35 feet on the vein, and the outlook for mineral is good.

The Ophelia tunnel, about one-half mile south of the town of Cripple Creek, has pierced the hill 260 feet. Two machine drills are at work all the time.

Mr. F. C. Potter, attorney for the Ammorillo company, has secured a patent for the Ammorillo lode belonging to that company. It is a full claim and another one is now being patented.

The Longfellow on Bull hill is being steadily worked on lease. The Clemmons lease ships about 30 tons of from 3 to 4-grade ore to the Gillett chlorination plant weekly. Eight men are employed.

Richer ore has been found in the Nellie V. on Squaw mountain, since sinking was resumed. The product has been running from $25 to $30 by carload lots and the output is between one and two cars a day.

Lumber for a shaft house on the Last Chance claim, the property of the Mobile company, is on the ground, and work will be commenced tomorrow. The shaft is down 30 feet and two shifts are kept busy sinking.

At the Ocean Wave, sinking is steadily in progress, and the ore opened a few days ago is holding out well. It is from six to eight inches in width, and a few tons have been saved for shipment which are expected to run about $50.

The Marguerite company has put up a shaft house of the first class and a good steam plant, and are getting ready to mine the small seam of high-grade ore struck several weeks ago in their Poverty Knob property, the Abe Lincoln.

In the Columbia a vein has been located in the 2[illegible]-foot cross-cut from the bottom of the 70-foot shaft. It is worked by Copeland, Salveland and Stringfield of Aspen, under the management of Stephen Fancy. No assays have been had, but the quartz looks encouraging.

The Sheriff property, on Raven hill, north of the Moose 2000 feet, and said to be on the same vein, is shipping regularly to the mills the low-grade ore from the 100-foot level and above. The vein at the 100-foot level is 5 feet wide.

Messrs. Bonnel & Tunnel, lessees of the Omaha No. 1, Omaha No. 2 and Britta claims, belonging to the R. P. O. E. Gold Mining company, have opened a fine vein of ore, the formation of which is identical with the Lincoln. They expect to commence shipping soon.

The Vindicator, on Bull hill, employs 40 men. The shaft has been sunk 200 feet and the output is about two cars of ore per week, the finest sampling 4 ounces and the rest of the shipment 3 ounces per ton. On the dump there are large quantities of $8 and $10 ore.

The Pontiac, a property owned by Frank T. Hughes, north of Gillett, is showing up well. Rumor has it that a large body of ore running $150 to the ton was recently encountered, but when approached upon the subject the owner refused to either affirm or deny the report.

Sinking on the Lone Star shaft of the Arcadia company is going on as rapidly as possible with the present equipment, and a shipment is being made ready. Manager F. F. Noxon has gone to Denver to purchase a steam plant. It will be put in place as soon as possible and work crowded with all possible speed.

The Lucky Bill, a fractional claim located on Womack hill, directly east of town, has a shaft down 200 feet. It is equipped with a steam hoist, and is being actively worked. Recently a small pocket of rich ore was found which netted $16 per lb. Another small shipment was made which sampled 362 ounces per ton. This property is owned by Denver people, and is a close corporation.

The Chief, on Raven hill, which, in connection with the Director mine, is owned by Messrs. Cove & Robinson, employs 14 men. The shaft has been sunk 150 feet, and shortly a level will be started. A raise is also being made to connect the second and third levels. The owners feel confident that shipments will be made daily from this property in a short time.

The Crank No. 1 and No. 2, owned by the Hercules G. M. Co., of Colorado Springs, and bonded to Mr. Harry Leonard for $5,000 until June 1st, 1897, and containing nearly ten acres patented, has just been transferred to a Mr. John F. Brady of Chicago, for $150,000. It is stated, Mr. Brady has given instructions to his agent to at once commence to sink a shaft 200 feet, which will be immediately done. The properties are well located on the south slope of Raven hill, between the Moose on the east and the Elkton, Raven, etc., on the west. Not much work has been done on the claims.—(Exchange.

Ore of high-grade is being saved from the development work on the Necessity, being worked by John Chandler under bond and lease, and the first shipment will go out in a few days. About five tons have been sorted into two grades. The shaft is down about 100 feet and drifts and cross-cuts run for 150 feet on three veins or small stringers. As a rule the ore is in small seams of quartz carrying free gold and sylvanite, but at one point the pay streak in three feet wide. It is a first class showing for a mine and one of the most important finds that has been made on Battle mountain outside of the two big groups of the Independence and Portland.

Colorado Springs Board of Trade and Mining Exchange,

First Call.

Colorado Springs, March 26.—Only a light morning business was transacted at the Board of Trade to-day, the bulk of the business transacted being in the listed prospects and prospective mines. In the latter class Buckhorn was the most active with a total of 6000 shares, all of which sold at about 6¼. Dante showed some improvement and was strong at from 10½ to 11 and had a couple of thousand sales around those figures. In the mines list Consolidated was the heaviest seller with a total of 3500 shares which brought 17½. Isabella, Orphan Bell and Union were the other sellers in this list. The prospects were responsible for an addition of 7500 more shares to the list, Maggie Reeves, Golden Eagle and Republic being the most prominent among them. Pauline was credited with 6000 shares at $1 per 100.

Second Call.

At the second call Dante again showed up very well, being credited with 9000 sales at 10¾ and 11. The latter figure was paid for a block of 5000 shares and 10¾ for the other 1000. Work had a single thousand sales at 15½, but after that sale had been made 15 was the best bid for the stock. Buckhorn was again to the front and had 5200 sales at 6¼. It appears to be one of the strongest stocks on the list and is one of the liveliest among the listed ones. The heaviest seller of the day was Empire among the prospects, which had a total of 25,000 shares at this call. Crescent had 8000 shares at about $5.50 per 100, and Republic 18,000 at 2¾. The second call as a whole was a good deal better than the first and developed a good deal more trading, though prices remained about the same.

WEST CREEK NOTES.

The Latest Doings in the New Gold Camp.

The ore in the Boomer shaft at Given continues to grow better, and is looking great from every respect. All those who have examined the shaft and the ore which comes out of it pronounce it a mine in its present state that will develop into one of the big things of the district. A bid at a way-up figure has been made the owners for the property but has been refused by them for the reason that they expect to work in themselves. The Boomer is located about two miles southwest of Given, and on the main dyke, running north through the district.

Mr. T. B. S. Brasted, who has twelve claims in the vicinity of Sheep Nose mountain, is up from Pueblo, and will spend some time in the district. Mr. Brasted is arranging for the incorporation of a company that will develop this group of claims, but aside from this he has been offered $50 per claim for the twelve claims as they stand now, with only the assessment work done. The mineral indications on the property and the tests made are such, however, that the offer will not be accepted. Mr. Brasted is also manager of the West Creek Consolidated Gold Mining Company and treasurer of the Sordanapolis company, both of which are operating extensively in the district.

The West Creek Mining and Milling company is pushing work on the Pittsburg.

The Red Reynard ore has produced the highest average assays of any mine in the camp.

The machinery will be placed in position on the Hoosier mine and will be in operation next week.

The Alpha people are sanguine that they will soon get pay ore in the Sarah J. The shaft is down 75 feet.

The Helvetia mine No. 2, situated three miles west of Thunder Buttes, shows a pay streak 17 inches wide of free gold ore.

A great deal of development work is being done in all sections of the camp. Half a million dollars has been expended in the West Creek district within the last three months.

A large corps of engineers, consisting of 17 persons are now located at Dolwood Springs [illegible] Trout creek. They are surveying the Cripple Creek Short-line, and have proceeded thus far on their route with a maximum grade of 2½ per cent.

The Jane Hogg, owned by Jacob Schaffer and others of Colorado Springs, is showing a splendid vein of rose quartz. The shaft is now down about 18 feet and assays well. H. M. Ward has a contract for sinking twenty feet further, where he expects to find shipping ore.

EASTERN MARKETS.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

New York, March 26.—Money on call has been easy at 2@3½ per cent., last loan at 3 and closing offered at 3. Prime mercantile paper 5@6½ per cent. Bar silver 68½. Mexican dollars 54½. Sterling exchange firm, with actual business in bankers' bills at $4.87½ for 60 days and $4.88½ for demand. Posted rates $4.88@4.89. Commercial bills [illegible]. Government bonds firm; State bonds dull; railroad bonds firm. Silver at the board was quiet.

Speculation at the stock exchange, while extremely dull was characterized by a firmer tone than on any previous day of the week. The dealings, as usual of late, were almost entirely professional, but among speculators the feeling was rather more bullish owing to the improving railway traffic returns, of Western roads. The advance in the postal rates of sterling exchange had very little influence on the markets for securities partly for the reason that the price of gold bars was advanced by the assay office from 1-16 to 3-16 per cent. This is calculated to prevent gold shipments at least until the rates of exchange advanced ½@¾ above the figures now ruling. The stock market advanced ¼ to ⅝ at the start, the purchase of several thousand shares for London account having had a good effect. The improvement was afterwards partially lost, but during the afternoon there was a general rally. Consolidated Gas and Chicago Gas each moved up 1½ per cent. There was good buying of the latter on apparently reliable reports that the directors will declare a dividend in the near future. The advance in the general list was equal to ½@¾ per cent. on very light trading. Shortly before the closing another reaction of ¼ to ½ ensued, and the market left off about steady in tone. The total sales were 118,703 shares. The net changes show advances of ½@¾ per cent., Chicago Gas leading. Sugar, however, lost 3¼. L. & N. ¾ and Northern Pacific preferred ½.

Bonds were dull and easy. Sales were $725,000.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

Chicago, March 26.—Wheat traders failed to do anything encouraging in the situation this morning and as a consequence prices at the opening were at a discount from those recorded at the close yesterday. The Cincinnati Price Current which usually carries some weight in the market, was interpreted bearishly this morning. Liverpool failed to respond to the improvement of yesterday in American markets and that, too, had a part in shaping the tone and direction of prices. Northwestern receipts were good at 479 cars against 63 last Thursday and 249 a year ago. Chicago received 45 cars and inspected out 45,675 bushels. Trade was slow most of the session, now and then becoming enlivened, but in a majority of instances appearing almost stagnant. Around the middle of the session prices firmed up, Bradstreet's report showing clearances of 496,370 bushels, and talk of Armour buying exercising a favorable influence. Closing Paris cables were unchanged to higher; Berlin higher and Antwerp lower for California, but unchanged for American spring wheat. Estimated receipts for to-morrow 16 cars.

Corn—This market differed in no respect from what it has recently been. Sympathy with wheat governed it, and business moved along in a listless fashion with occasional short lived periods of moderate activity. Liverpool cables were quiet and unchanged. Receipts 170 cars, were 60 less than expected. Withdrawals from store were 125,488 bushels. Export clearances amounted to 71,961 bushels.

All last winter Mr. George A. Mills, of Lebanon, Conn., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. At times it was so severe that he could not stand up straight, but was drawn over on one side. "I tried different remedies without receiving relief," he says "until about six months ago I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using it for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since.

Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands of thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are to-day countless invalids, who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence gave no concern, and were therefore neglected. When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effectual. 25 and 50 cents a bottle.

Among passengers for the east on the Rock Island last evening were the following: Mr. and Mrs. Rathbone, who go to New York; Mr. H. K. Devereux to Chicago and Mrs. Shane of 1421 North Cascade who goes to New York.

Mr. H. H. Seldomridge, chairman of the Democratic county committee, has called the committee together for the 3rd of April, to consider the call for a county convention. The State committee meets in Denver on Saturday to consider the State convention call.

Mr. Charles White, an expert bicycle man from the Columbia branch house in Denver, has come here to enter the service of Mr. Downs, the local agent of the company. The Maxwell boys, who have been with him for some time, will engage in the business for themselves.

A very pleasant social of the First Congregational church was held last evening at the residence of Professor E. S. Parsons at No. 1328 North Nevada avenue. A large number were present who were pleasantly entertained by a short musical programme. Refreshments were also served.

Henry LeB. Wills & Co. have secured the services of Mr. Herbert Skinner to look after their real estate interests. Mr. Skinner will attend more especially to the outside work in connection with this department. He will be glad to see his old friends at his new quarters in the Gazette building.

Mr. Fred Schwartz, business manager of the Marie Tavary Grand English Opera company, is in the city completing arrangements for the appearance of his company at the opera house on Monday evening, April 6. This is the largest English opera company now traveling and is under the management of Mr. Charles Pratt, former manager of Emma Abbott.

Sheriff Boynton went to Denver yesterday to get requisition papers for Arthur J. Goodwin, and from there started for New York. Goodwin was the agent of the Continental Oil company at Cripple Creek and last spring was found to have embezzled company money to a considerable amount. He skipped the country but later was heard of at St. Louis. Marshal Dana brought him back from there last fall and he was put under bond. He had good friends at Cripple Creek and here and they signed the bond. About the first of the year he jumped the bond. Yesterday he was caught in New York City and the sheriff will bring him back here again for trial.

The students of Colorado College give their Mock National Republican convention at the High School auditorium tonight. The convention promises to be a huge success and excitement will run high. Rev. Philip Washburn, in the capacity of mayor of the town, will deliver the address of welcome, which will be responded to by the chairman. The convention will be organized in regular order and will be conducted like a regular presidential convention, so it will be instructive as well as highly entertaining. Five candidates will be placed in the field, the names being presented and seconded in regular convention order. Each candidate has a strong backing and the contest will be close. Those who enjoy a good time should not fail to attend and enjoy a dollar's worth of fun for a quarter.

Mahara Brothers' Minstrels.

The next attraction to appear at the opera house will be the Mahara Brothers Refined Minstrels, next Tuesday evening. The Rockford Register says: "There are minstrels and minstrels, but W. A. Mahara's Minstrels, consisting of twenty colored artists, and a pickaninny band come as near to the genuine article as anyone could wish to see. They can count on big audiences at Rockford whenever they choose to visit us."

Patterson-Martin.

A very pretty wedding occurred yesterday at the home of Mrs. Robert Martin, 315 North Weber. The ceremony was performed promptly at 5 o'clock by Rev. Pressly Thompson, pastor of the United Presbyterian Church. The bride, Miss Madora Martin, is well known among a host of friends, all of whom will unite in best wishes as she goes to her new home. The groom is Mr. D. J. Patterson, a well-known resident of Washington, Ia. The bride was beautifully dressed in a costume of white brocaded silk, and the groom in conventional black. The home was tastily decorated with flowers and evergreens. After the ceremony the guests sat down to a beautiful repast, served by one of our city caterers. The bride and groom left last evening on the Rock Island for Washington, Ia., where they will make their home.

CLEVELAND AND THE PLATFORM.

He Cleaves to a Sound Money Plank.

AND WILL HAVE IT IF POSSIBLE.

Carlisle Is the Favorite of the Administration—Colonel Morrison Is Not Looked Upon With Favor—Whitney Has Hopes.

Washington, March 26.—(Special.)—What is the administration up to politically? Are the president and his lieutenants really trying to nominate Secretary Carlisle? These questions are often heard in Washington, and no one is able to give a satisfactory answer. But I have made some inquiries which satisfy me that the administration has only one definite programme, and this has not to do with candidates. The first great desire of the president and his advisers, as I told you some time ago in a dispatch from this city, is to secure the adoption of a sound money plank in the Chicago convention. Everything else is to be subordinated to this project. Unless the platform can be made right the president and his followers will have little interest in the nominations. If the principles of the party are to be changed, if the Democracy is to become a free silver party, Mr. Cleveland and his immediate friends will not care a rap who the nominees are, and will wash their hands of the whole business. This statement gives a keynote to the programme of the administration; and everything else will have to be measured by it.

Carlisle and Morrison.

Secretary Carlisle is in a certain sense a candidate for the presidential nomination, and in a sense he has the support of the administration. But it would not be true to say that he is "the" administration candidate, if by that is meant that the whole power of the government is to be used to bring about his success. The truth is that Mr. Carlisle was put forward as a possible nominee more in the hope that his appearance in the field would strengthen the sound money cause than through any belief that he could be nominated. Before entering Mr. Cleveland's cabinet Mr. Carlisle was in close touch with the free silver people. Though not very much of a free silver man himself at any time, he was a member of their ranks in a conservative way, and his friends in public life, and a majority of his admirers in private life, were in the states which now seek to have silver made the cardinal principle of Democracy. Therefore it was believed that as a presidential candidate Mr. Carlisle might help to hold up the hands of the men who are struggling for antisilver delegates from the southern states.

Morrison Not For Free Silver.

There was a special reason why Mr. Carlisle's name should be interjected to the canvass. Colonel William R. Morrison of Illinois is the most prominent candidate in the western and southern section of the country. Morrison and Carlisle have much the same standing. They have been fast friends, personally and politically. Their political friendship is at an end, but their personal relations are as pleasant as ever. They have belonged to the same coterie that is, the friends of one have in innumerable instances been the friends of the other. Colonel Morrison is not a free silver man. His personal belief is that free coinage by this country alone would be dangerous. But he is satisfactory to the silver men, in a measure, because it is understood among them that if Mr. Morrison were nominated for president and elected he would not veto a silver bill, in case one were passed by the congress. Mr. Morrison declines to say whether or not this is true, but the silver men appear to be well content with his position. If it is true it is because Mr. Morrison, as an old fashioned Democrat, does not believe it lies within the province of a president to set himself up as greater than the congress and greater than the people who elected the congress, by interposing the executive veto upon a measure which has been discussed throughout the country and upon which there has been no rash or hasty legislation. There is a theory, to which it is believed Mr. Morrison subscribes, that the veto power should only be exercised when congress has acted hastily or impulsively, or upon a supposed state of facts which afterward turned out to be incorrectly stated; and that in no case is it the duty or right of the president to thwart the will of the people as expressed through the ballot box upon a great question of economic or financial policy.

A Contingency.

Another reason why Mr. Morrison is not opposed by the silver men is because he is believed to take such a view of the duty of the president that if he were in the White House he would not sell bonds to maintain the gold reserve unless he were expressly directed to do so by congress. In other words, if he were president, he would assume that if congress wanted the reserve maintained in that manner it would say so explicitly; that, at any rate, the responsibility rests upon the congress and not upon the president, whose duty it is simply to obey and carry out the laws, and not to create them. Of course any one can see what the result of such a policy would be. If the gold reserve were attacked by the exporters, and congress refused to direct its replenishment by means of bond sales, it would disappear altogether, and the country would go to a silver basis. As long as the free silver men have control of the senate, as they are likely to do for some time to come, no such authorization could be carried through congress.

For these reasons the administration is especially desirous of defeating the nomination of Colonel Morrison, who personally would make an admirable candidate. M. Carlisle was brought out in the hope that his candidacy would take delegates away from Morrison by giving the sound money men a name to conjure with in the south and southwest. It might happen that in the event a sound money plank were put through the convention at Chicago Mr. Carlisle would reap the reward of a nomination, but it is not considered probable by those familiar with the situation.

At the present time the question of the identity of the nominee of that convention is not disturbing the administration very much. Their particular desire, as already stated, is to make the platform right. If that can be done, then the strongest man will be nominated, the one most likely to hold the party together and to have a chance for success at the polls. The nominee might be Carlisle, or Olney, or Campbell of Ohio, or even Mr. Cleveland himself, if the convention should show a desire to have him for leader again, of which there is no probability at the present time. The man most likely to be nominated is Mr. Whitney. WALTER WELLMAN.

CUBA'S ANTHEM.

A Stirring Melody Which Is Called the Bayamed Hymn.

Havana, Cuba, March 16.—The Cubans already have their national anthem. Wherever the armies of the revolution have gone they have carried it with them. The soldiers have sung it. Their bands have played it. In the festivities that celebrate their entrance into every town and village it has the most prominent place in the music. At the balls it is the last event for women, girls, men and boys to join in the chorus, "Bayamos Hymn," as it is called. The words and music are familiar all over Cuba, for the people are like the moriscos of Spain in one respect, their love for ballads. In times of peace the wandering minstrel with guitar or mandolin is as familiar a figure in the hill towns and villages of Cuba as in the romances of Spain. And everybody sings or can sing, except in those awful periods of butchery called "wars with Spain" and the subsequent recovery from devastation and poverty. Cuba is one of the happiest countries in the world. She is one of the richest. No man ever went to bed hungry in Cuba, except in war times. They seldom borrow their melodies. They make them. And as if they were unconscious of it, as if a half century of succeeding revolutions had burdened their very souls with lamentation, nearly all their songs have a plaintiveness that is striking to the ear of a stranger. Their nature has not been subdued, but their hearts have been broken. The "Bayamos Hymn," however, is in a robust key, perhaps because it is so old, for one reason. It has been sung for many, many years as a Cuban ballad and has, in its entirety, some 30 verses, if all that have been sung to it were put together. But the theme never varies—"to arms, not for glory, but to break the chains of tyranny." (E. Rappleye in New York Mail and Express.
